How to get to Capri

You can reach Capri by hydrofoil or ferry from the ports of Naples and Sorrento.

Ferries are slower and run less frequently than hydrofoils. The ferry journey is the cheaper option (ferry tickets cost circa 13.00 Euro, whilst hydrofoil tickets cost circa 17.00 Euro).

In the months of June, July and August sea crossings are also available from Positano, Amalfi and Ischia.

If you are traveling in the peak months of July and August, we suggest you leave ample time for embarking, so as to be sure of getting a seat on the hydrofoil.

For the latest times of sea connections, consult the web site:

<http://www.capritourism.com/en/ship-timetable>

Please note that times vary according to the season and that, in the case of adverse weather conditions, hydrofoil crossings might easily be suspended. Ferry crossings are rarely cancelled.

From Sorrento to Capri

Ferries and hydrofoils from Sorrento to Capri depart from the port of Marina Piccola.

The port is easily reached on foot, by way of a flight of steps commencing in Piazza Tasso, Sorrento's main square. If you have heavy luggage we advise you to take a bus or taxi.

Sorrento is linked to Naples and the majority of towns in the province by the Circumvesuviana railway line.

The journey in hydrofoil takes approximately 20 minutes. The journey by ferry, 30 minutes.

From Napoli to Capri

From Naples there are two ports from where boats depart for Capri: Molo Beverello for hydrofoils and Molo di Calata di Massa for ferries. A free shuttle bus links the two ports, which are circa 500meters apart.

From Piazza Garibaldi railway station to Molo Beverello

Although public transport is readily available, given that buses and trams are invariably extremely crowded and the difficulty of knowing when and where to get off, from Naples railway station we strongly advise you take a taxi.

Do not accept offers of taxi rides from anybody who approaches you in the station, instead head straight to the line of licensed taxis immediately outside the station. We suggest you ask the driver to apply the fixed rate to the Port (circa 10.00 Euro), prior to boarding. The journey lasts circa 10 minutes.

From Capodichino airport to Molo Beverello

BUS – Immediately outside Terminal 1 you'll find the "Alibus" coach which runs direct to the center of Naples. Tickets cost circa 3.00 Euro and can be purchased on board.

The journey lasts circa 40 minutes. The coach stops at Piazza Municipio, about a 3 minute walk away from Molo Beverello.

TAXI – Licensed taxi cabs wait outside Terminal 1. Do not accept offers of taxi rides from anybody who approaches you inside the terminal building. We suggest you ask the taxi driver to apply the fixed rate to the Port (circa 20.00 Euro), before boarding the cab.
